

PRIVACY STATEMENT FOR COLLECTION OF PERSONAL AND HEALTH INFORMATION

By providing Indomitablecrew.com (“us”, “we”, “our”) with this personal information, you acknowledge and agree the following:

We only collect the information we need to perform our consultation services (“Services”). We comply at all times with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth), the National Privacy Principles and the Information Privacy Act 2000 (Vic) which regulates how personal information is handled including all health details, which are sensitive information. We will not disclose your personal information without your consent unless required due to a medical emergency, injury, health risk or similar and will only do so to a qualified professional who is under the same duty of confidentiality.

The personal information you are providing is true and correct at the time you are providing it to us. You will notify us with any changes and keep it updated on a regular basis while you are using our Services. You can access your personal information by request at any time.

We keep your personal information secure and do not use it for any purposes unrelated to our services. All staff who may access this personal information are under a strict duty of confidentiality, and privacy practices adhered to. Please note: we securely destroy all personal information after the regulated and legislated time period if you have ceased using our Services.

From time to time, we may use your personal information to contact you in relation to information on our Services. You can unsubscribe at any time or advise us that you withdraw your consent to these specific uses and be removed from any further marketing or information we may send.

Should you have any questions or require more information about how we store, use or disclose your personal information, please ask us for a copy of our full Privacy Policy.

Important Note: Our Services are not a substitute for medical attention, treatment, examination, advice or diagnosis. You are responsible for consulting a doctor before commencing any new regimes or alterations to your diet or health. You take full responsibility for making the informed decision to use our Services. You hereby agree to irrevocably release and waive any claims you may have now or in the future against us.
